

Ways to Participate in the 2026 Girl Scout Cookie Program

What's GREAT about the annual Girl Scout Cookie
Program:

FAMILY

As a family, you can customize your Girl Scout's experience. You can participate with the troop in all the ways below or pick what is right for you and your Girl Scout.

Direct Sales –

Girls have cookies in hand and ask customers to make a purchase. This is the preferred method of selling since customers tend to impulse buy. This also saves time by alleviating multiple trips to and from a customer's home. Direct sales can include door-to-door walkabouts and workplace sales.

Order taking with an order card – Girls can use their order cards to visit friends, family and local neighborhoods, with adult supervision and approval, and take pre-orders for cookies. Girls should not collect money for any order prior to delivery (unless they order online through Smart Cookies). Girls then give their completed order cards to their Troop Cookie Manager by their designated deadline.

Online Sales –

With Digital Cookie, customers can have cookies shipped directly to them, place an order for girl delivery or place an order for our donation program, Cookies for a Cause. When customers place their order online, all cookies must be paid for (online) when the order is placed.

Cookie Booths –

Cookie booths are an activity where girls set up a booth in high-traffic areas such as grocery stores, malls or sporting events to market their cookies to customers. This is also a direct sales method.
